The Ability to See True

© J.Hamilton 2008

But for a lack of biological energy, we would see true

Having experienced the L.O.V.E. Chargers by Cory Herter initially in October of 2007, it is my wish to share a bit of what I have learned. I presently sleep on 5 boxes (10 half boxes) of L.O.V.E. Chargers on a queen sized bed. This is, and continues to be, a very powerful and consciousness expanding experience.

Life path vs Soul path

1) I have come to see that we have a life path (urge) as dictated by our genetic lineage. Our genetic lineage is the momentum of our ancient familial blood line for which we are the end result. Our bodies might be thought of as having a mind of their own, for which they plod along generation upon generation in the recognition of fundamental (and increasingly obsolete) survival mechanisms. Genetical information is unlikely to deliver us to the best of our possibilities.

We also have an alternate life path based on the possibility of expressing our potential. Some might refer to this as our Soul's urge. Usually these two paths are divergent, but when they are in alignment, one can have vast success and greatly contribute to humanity's expansion. The act of becoming conscious is the awareness of a potential far beyond the body's programmed genetical forward march. As we attempt to shift to this alternate life path, as we attempt to evolve consciously, the body's unconscious powerful genetic "momentum" must be quelled.

[Summation of #1] One of the fundamental purposes of the L.O.V.E Chargers is to allow us to put our attention toward our soul's purpose.. To remove the genetical limitations of our forefathers can have a very powerful impact on successfully expressing our potential.

Trauma

2) We are also the product of what we assimilate and inherit as our upbringing and our surroundings. Reviewed more carefully, we are the product of our inability to assimilate the truth of our surroundings. We typically look at the world through a very limited perspective and thus have a very myopic and foreshortened view of the world. Because of this limited perspective, we see the world as dysfunctional. We pull back, we conserve our resources and we establish boundaries and defensive postures. Because we see the world as dysfunctional, we are deeply traumatized. Further, we create our realities from this dysfunctional perspective.

Trauma has another huge influence because we store what we cannot assimilate. Anything less than a perfect assimilation of our experience is stored in our bodies as trauma. It is becoming increasingly apparent that trauma is behind disease and underlies dysfunctional reality creating. See health article/trauma.

I define trauma as anything less than our ability to fully express our natural state of Unconditional Love and acceptance.

[Summation of #2] Similar to a computer with enough processing power, L.O.V.E Chargers provide additional levels of biological energy to more fully process the world. As we become able to assimilate the truth, nonresistance, unconditional love and acceptance come to us like old friends for which a newfound resonance and attraction becomes available to our lives.

Secondarily, by dramatically enhancing generic, full-spectrum biological energy to the physical body and cellular system, L.O.V.E. Chargers facilitate the rapid processing and removal of age old trauma from the body system, i.e., empowering the cellular system to "clean house." Suddenly, Law of Attraction takes on a whole new meaning as we dramatically refine our outgoing broadcast/prayer to the unfolding Universe. We become recipients of what we always knew was possible.

The Ability to see True

3) The ability to see true and the release of stored trauma are initially the most powerful things we can do to unfold our innate potential. Both of these achievements are a product of the L.O.V.E. Charger's generic, full spectrum biological processing power. As we increase our ability to process trauma, our worlds shift both inside and out. It is in our ability to see the world as whole that we move from resistance to unconditional love, nonresistance and acceptance. Our worlds begin to unfold in a far different manner.

Most importantly, the generic, biological, full spectrum energy amplified by the L.O.V.E Chargers rapidly processes age-old, trauma stored within the body. We can support this process by trusting and loving the process we are in. And, depending on how many boxes of L.O.V.E Chargers we are on, dictates how fast we process this sometimes ancient and otherwise stored information. On one hand, it is about finding our comfort; on the other, it is about how quickly we can get to the other side. And, if we don't have sufficient Chargers for processing our stored trauma, we might ever so slowly release old patterns that could be released much more quickly with sufficient processing power.

[Summation of #3] It is inefficient, though possible, to use less L.O.V.E. Chargers. With insufficient processing power, we can unseat trauma though it may take time to process and release. To become as efficient as possible, we use "Bed Sets" of L.O.V.E Chargers. Because L.O.V.E. Chargers work in parallel, the more L.O.V.E.

Chargers, the better they work. Each brings a certain amount of processing power. Bed Sets, comprised of multiples of boxes of L.O.V.E. Chargers, can take one through a process in minutes or hours that might otherwise take weeks, months or years to release.

Conscious Journey

4) Bed Sets bring about rapid and conscious change. They rapidly break down old structures held in place by myopic sight, unconsciously held belief systems and long held trauma. By the vast improvement in sight and processing power of L.O.V.E. Chargers, old worlds crumble and much more refined worlds take their place. Nonresistance, unconditional love and acceptance become readily available as life flows in a much more refined manner. Imagine the difference of moving to a new town complete with old habitual patterns versus moving to a new environment sans existing patterns. This might be similar to beginning a new relationship with a clean slate vs. bringing the old dysfunctional patterns along – as we typically do. L.O.V.E. Chargers rapidly enhance one's ability to establish new patterns and realities for which one will have a wholly new and refined set of life experiences.

It has been recently noted that the book Visionaries Thrive In All Times is the perfect companion to this transitory phase of refining one's existence. Once it is realized that a sudden unexpected experience, i.e., death in the family, divorce, job loss, etc., or induced adjustment (L.O.V.E. Chargers, extensive Brain Training, extensive Deeksha, etc) brings about a rapid shift in one's patterns, harnessing this new tempo becomes a very valuable tool. Visionaries Thrive In All Times (VTAT) becomes the perfect companion and guide. You may review and order VTAT here.

Note: L.O.V.E. Chargers coupled with Visionaries Thrive In All Times often show up in one's life shortly before or shortly after a huge transitory period has begun.

[Summation of #4] Visionaries Thrive In All Times is about how to revamp one's understanding of reality creation for which the L.O.V.E. Chargers provide the gentle but powerful realignment of existing habitual patterns. Visionaries Thrive In All Times provides initial guidance for which the Chargers are then able to more rapidly do their work. VTAT and massive amounts of L.O.V.E. Chargers are a perfect match for those in transition or wishing to quickly transition to joy, peace, abundance and unconditional love. New worlds unfold..

If it wasn't for resistance and short sightedness, we would have everything we could ever wish for in our lives. In fact, everything that we wish for comes to us. But because we are hunkered down in the many variations of survival and resistance, we don't realize how very much we push against what is naturally ours. Where we once resisted, where we now love and accept, we discover myriad worlds unfolding that were always there. It is in nonresistance that we discover the world as whole.. And, it is in the realization that we don't have the biological energy to process the world that the perfection in the world goes on without us.

Recommendations:

It is recommended that one (or a couple) begin on a 5 Box Set. This is 10 half boxes of the approximate dimensions of 23"x17.5" each. You can review a diagram at <http://www.resonantservices.com/Programmers/Recommendations.htm#Bed%20Plans>.

It is also possible to begin at the Intermediate level. As we discover what is, for all intents and purposes, an indescribable and incalculable experience, moving to the Intermediate Level becomes a sensible and very worthwhile (and attainable) goal.

This is time and energy well spent. We always hear, "I want more posters." It is also becoming quite apparent that sexual activity reaches a level far beyond anything most have ever experienced. Business partnerships and couples soar to new levels of relating, communication and performance. Further, the quality of sleep available on the L.O.V.E. Chargers is alone, worth the price of admission.

Athletes and those who rely on high performance, whether on the playing field or in the Board Room, will benefit dramatically from the Intermediate and Advanced Levels.

World class Entrepreneurs and Healers will find themselves best supported at the Master Level.
